WPA RUSH ORDER TO GIVE RELIEF JOBS BY MONDAY; ANTIOCH DROPS HALL PLAN

Heads of Relief Families to Be Assigned Work by Nov. 22

All employable heads of families on relief rolls must be assigned to WPA project jobs by Friday (tomorrow) and must be at work by Monday, November 25.

This was ordered by heads of the Works Progress administration this week in a "big push" to relieve unemployment in all the twenty-one counties comprising district one of the Illinois WPA with headquarters in Rockford.

Ultimatum Received Wednesday
Receipt of an ultimatum from Washington WPA headquarters yesterday setting Monday as the deadline for assigning relief clients to WPA jobs was followed by the Rockford office announcement that one person from every certified relief family in Lake county he assigned before the deadline.

The announcement was made by Mogens Ipsen, district WPA director, who pointed out that there will be no excuse for relief clients not reporting for work. Failure to report on jobs means clients will be removed from relief and may be in danger of losing opportunities for future employment.

Adjust Work Later

During the organization under the new plan some skilled workmen may be forced to work on unskilled work and others may have to start on which to which they are not suited. This, it is pointed out, will be adjusted as fast as the organization is completed.

District WPA officials explained that the only way to safeguard the 21 counties in the district from having large relief loads on December 1 when the federal government cuts off all direct relief is to have all employable heads of families on relief transferred to WPA jobs.

It is up to those assigned to jobs to cooperate by reporting for work immediately. If any client feels that he is not classified correctly he should report to his foreman on the job and adjustments will be made as soon as possible, Mr. Ipsen said.

GEO. C. PACEY OF WILMOT DEAD

Fee-long Resident of Community to Be Buried Friday

George Clifford Pacey, 61, of Wilmot, died at St. Therese hospital in Waukegan Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock following a short illness. Funeral services will be held Friday (tomorrow) at 2 o'clock from the Wilmot Methodist Episcopal church with interment in Wilmot cemetery.

Mr. Pacey was born in Bristol township on April 23, 1874, later moving with his parents to Wilmot where he completed his education. He served as a rural mail-carrier in the community for 14 years and since 1915 has been engaged in farming. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge of Wilmot.

Surviving him is his wife, now Hattie Wilmot, and two sons, Cyril and Floyd, and by five grandchildren. He is also survived by one brother and one sister; Edward Pacey of Pennington, Neb., and Mrs. Earl Shales of Woodstock.

Charley Hughes Dead in Aberdeen, S. Dak.

Charley Hughes, a native of Antioch township where he spent many years in young manhood farming in this vicinity, died in Aberdeen, S. Dak., Nov. 13, according to word received here by friends this week. He had made his home in Aberdeen for the past 30 years. Burial took place in Ashland, Wis., last Saturday.

He was 50 years old, and was the son of the late Patrick Hughes, who was well known to older residents of the locality. His wife passed away about five years ago. He is survived by three brothers, Frank of Hayward, and James and John of Monteagle, S. Dak., also a sister, Catherine, who lives in Chicago.

POLITICAL HINT

We have a sneaking notion any party that will pledge itself to give the poor old alphabet a much-needed rest can win the next election hands down.

Only One WPA Project Now Operating in Township

Because of state high school conventions and investigations into the proposed 50-minute class periods, Antioch Township high school classes will not meet Friday (tomorrow). It is announced by Principal L. O. Bright.

According to the plans, all high school teachers who are not attending the conventions will visit schools operating under the hour period plan to determine its advisability for Antioch students. It is claimed that the 60-minute periods are not only similar to class time in colleges and universities but also that they result in better study conditions and reduction of homework. The effect of the schedule on club and music periods will likewise be investigated.

Principal Bright is in attendance at the Illinois High school conference in Springfield and Mrs. Richay, Miss Brunson and C. L. Kull will be present at the American Vocational Association convention in Chicago.

LICENSE TRADE HOLDS UP WELL

Couples Still Get Married; But During Office Hours

Day time issuance of marriage licenses in Lake county seems to be working out satisfactorily since placing the ban on the marriage mill racket, according to records in County Clerk Russ Alford's office.

Besides restricting the issuance of marriage licenses to day time business hours, County Clerk Alford has adopted the straight $1 fee for license which is turned over to the earnings of the office and becomes county revenue.

During the administration of County Clerk Hende, a similar fee was charged for marriage licenses that went into the earnings of the office. The former charge for the special marriage certificate which was signed by the marrying Justice of the peace or ordained minister was an extra charge that was not requisite to the earnings of the clerk's office.

County Clerk Raymond D. Woods of McHenry county seat in Woodstock declared that he would not issue marriage licenses except during regular business hours.

Reports from Crown Point, Ind., the grotto green of the midwest since the Waukegan mill was put out of operation, shows that there has been little increase in the number of eight marriages since Lake and McHenry counties eliminated after business hours marriage licenses.

Alfred Pedersen recently purchased an Aberdeen Angus and a Hereford calf at the Union stock yards. These he intends to grow and fatten for baby bees.

Robert Denman bought a pure bred Holstein heifer calf from John Stephens. The calf is from well bred and high production stock.

Leslie Perry and Virgil Heron each purchased a pure-bred Shropshire aged ewe from Bertrand Galiger, a former student at the Antioch High.

This week Arnold Weber and Clarence Dunford bought Jersey heifer calves from the Phaschendale Farms.

Frank Verkeet recently purchased a flock of Barred Plymouth Rock pullets from Robert Wells of Gurnee.

Several other purchases of Guernsey calves are yet to be made.

Boys are taking a lot of interest and prospects for a good showing at next year's fair are good.

The sand bins for storage of carrots and other root crops and the racks for the storage of cabbage have been completed by the Farm Mechanics classes. These were built in addition to the potato and onion storage bins built by the class some weeks ago for the cafeteria. The sand bins will hold about 16 bushels of roots and the racks approximately 1000 lbs. of cabbage.

The mystery-comedy play sponsored by the Home Economics and Future Farmers club will be featured on Saturday evening, Nov. 23, at the High School Auditorium. The play is "Oh, Kay!"

PAY INCREASED WAGES ON FARM HOME BUILDINGS

Federal Farm Homestead Project Affords Skilled Labor $1.10 an Hour

Work started this week on the erection of the first of the farm homes and groups of outbuildings on the 50 acre homesteads established in Lake county by the Federal Farm Homestead project will be done by relief labor at prices that will nearly conform to those paid to union labor. George Gonzales, manager of the project which has its offices in Libertyville announced yesterday.

The work on the construction of foundations for three of the homes has been started this week under the direction of Mr. Gonzales who has been assigned by the Rural Settlement administration in Washington to arrange for the purchase of material and to select workers from the relief rolls to erect the series of buildings. These instructions came with the notification that the administration had told that all bids submitted by contractors on Nov. 4 were too high.

Wages Announced

According to Mr. Gonzales, the skilled labor will work an average of 64 hours a month at $1.10 an hour, earning $77; intermediate skilled labor will work 72 hours at 80 cents an hour to make $55 in a month while common labor will work 93 hours at 50 cents an hour to earn $38. While the earnings for each workman cannot exceed the limit set under the laws governing the WPA or kindred federal groups the payment of prevailing wage is made possible by lengthening the number of hours of work.

The material for the foundations for the 50 farm homes and outbuildings will be purchased from Lake and Cook county dealers who offer the best prices. While bids will be asked from lumber and building supply firms on materials for the superstructures of the buildings.

Will Be Modern

The plans for the homes provide for basements, installation of water, bathroom fixtures and electrical equipment.

Those who have been selected to occupy the homesteads are hopeful that the homes will be completed in time to permit occupancy before the beginning of spring planting. Most of them have waited for two years to move onto the homesteads while various conditions resulted in delays to the completion of the projects.

START CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE NOV. 29

Part of Nation-wide Effort to Eradicate White Plague

Christmas seals will go on sale here Friday, November 29th, to aid in financing a program which is part of the nation-wide effort to eradicate tuberculosis.

Officials of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association have pointed out that seals sold by the 88 local associations will bear a red double-barred cross as an identifying mark. The insignia of the tuberculosis associations is not to be confused with the emblem of the American Red Cross organization, which is a red Maltese cross with all four bars of equal size and shape.

Although the double barred cross has been the universal emblem of tuberculosis association for 33 years, its first use in a crusade occurred nine centuries ago. At that time, Godfrey, Duke of Lorraine, carried the cross as his standard in the wars which sought to reclaim the Holy Land for the Christians. After his return, it became the emblem of the house of Lorraine.

The Lorraine Cross was slightly different than the one used by tuberculosis associations today. The ends were square, and the second bar, which was longer than the upper one, was nearer the base. It was at a meeting of the International Conference on Tuberculosis held in Berlin in 1902 that this cross was adopted as the emblem of the anti-tuberculosis movement.

Approximately forty-five million seals will be offered for sale by the various tuberculosis associations throughout the state. Funds obtained will be used for education, nursing, clinics, health schools, health camps and other forms of tuberculosis prevention work.

The seal sale is being conducted simultaneously in 28 foreign countries and 2,034 associations in the United States.

Antioch P.T.A. Elects Zimmerman President

Dr. L. John Zimmerman, who has been serving as vice-president of the Antioch Grade school parent-teachers association, was elevated to the office of president at a meeting Tuesday night.

The office was vacated by Mrs. Ernestine Robbins, who moved to Grass Lake which community has been the family home ever since.

He is survived by his wife and four children—Joseph, Jr., and Mrs. Arthur Anderson, of Antioch; and Mrs. J. Howe and Mrs. Russell Halverson, of Chicago; and three grandchildren. Two brothers and two sisters also survive: Ted and Fred Anzinger of Madison; Mrs. C. Hill, of Waukegan; and Mrs. A. Mark, of Glendale, California. His son, George Anzinger, died last March.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the home with Rev. P. T. Bohl of Desplaines officiating. Burial was in Grass Lake cemetery.

Joseph Anzinger, Sr., 73, and for 31 years a resident of Grass Lake community, died at his late home Friday, Nov. 15.

He was born in Madison, Wis., in 1862. After his marriage to Elizabeth Willard, October 19, 1904, he removed to Grass Lake which community has been the family home ever since.

CHARGING IT AGAINST THE FUTURE

The gravity of the tax problem is well illustrated by figures published in a recent editorial in the Manufacturer's Record, which show that, during the current year, the federal government's expenditures will be in excess of $10,000,000,000. This is in addition to the spending of state and local governments, which will be above $9,000,000,000, bringing the total government expense to almost $20,000,000,000.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, the federal government received a little less than $2,000,000,000 from corporation and individual income taxes, $526,222,000 from AAA processing and flour taxes, and miscellaneous internal revenue of $1,674,000,000. The grand total was thus slightly under $20,000,000,000.

If collections during the current year are the same—and there is no reason for believing that they will vary greatly either way—the federal government will spend close to $7,000,000,000 more than it receives, in spite of the fact that current taxes are generally believed to be excessively and dangerously high. This $7,000,000 must be added to our huge and growing public debt. In brief, of every three dollars the federal government is spending today, it actually has to spend but one dollar—and charges the other two dollars against the future.

Every one of those debt dollars bears interest and, over a long period of time, even at low federal interest rates, interest costs often rival the principal, or more. Those costs can be met only by higher taxes—and when bonds come due, infinitely higher taxes will be imposed.

The outlook is wholly bleak, unless the federal government, and all other units of government, make a drastic change in policy. Our money must be set to the bone, the budget must be balanced, and every nickel possible must be applied to reducing the debt load, and eventually reducing the tax load.

THE FRUITS OF CO-OPERATION

In a recent address, L. J. Tiber, master of the National Grange, told his audience some of the things that cooperation does for the farmer.

It gives him a voice in the control of his own affairs, thus increasing his sense of responsibility and his value as a citizen.

It makes it possible for him to control the quality of both the commodities he buys and the commodities he sells.

It enables him to secure the type of service as to merchandising, packaging, distribution, etc., that best fits his needs.

It aids him in bettering the price received for his products, both by increasing his bargaining power and by showing him ways to increase quality.

It opens avenues of credit that he could not otherwise obtain.

Each of these points is of great importance—and they by no means exhaust the list. The fruits of co-operation are many—and the progressive farmer is benefitting accordingly.

95 OUT OF 100 ARE DEPENDENT

If you were to ask the financial status of the next hundred men aged 65 or more, you meet, you would find, if they represent the average, that only five have independent incomes large enough to live on decently without working; that 23 continue to work for a living; that 67 are dependent for their livelihood upon relatives or public charity.

Every one of these men started out in life with high hopes. Every one envisioned a self-sustaining, self-specting old age, in which he could exercise the savings he had made during his productive years, and enjoy himself, without worry and without dependence on any person or institution.

Five of the hundred men achieved that goal. Ninety failed to reach it.

These are the—unfortunately as they are, they will be found by many persons as remarkable and courageous as any we are likely to make the most of the losses they sustain. There is no legal need to file the application for most of them can be reached only by a plan which uses some of the dollars we earn with complete ease now to care for our needs and ambitions when dollars come hard.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Do the American people want the much-criticized Constitutional amendment which would limit the Senate's power to block acts of Congress?

So comes, according to the widespread polls of the American Institute of Public Opinion, which gives a voice to a number of large newspapers, a divisive No.

The Institute, which breaks down answers in its full two-section survey, found that 53 percent of the 100 favored the amendment. Fifty-seven were against it. Sixty and no opinion.

New England was strongest against the amendment—53 per cent voting No and only 23 per cent No. Mountain states were weakest—41 per cent saying No, 38 per cent Yes and 21 per cent holding no opinion.

LIBERTY'S GUARANTEE

The people of this country should each day offer thanks to the framers of our Constitution, the document which guarantees freedom of speech and freedom of the press. This is the greatest protection a free people have against the crushing hand of officialism, bureaucracy, dictatorship and destruction of personal property, rights and life itself, as we have seen occur in foreign lands not blessed with a constitution such as ours.

At one time, our people should never any program to tamper with or weaken the basic principles of the United States Constitution.

In getting the most from home through the winter, Johnson calls attention to what he terms the 8-point common sense plan of raising hens.

Every flock owner will do well to question himself on each of John Johnson's eight points to see if his flock is getting a chance to lay winter eggs. Poultry raisers need not go to any great expense in making the necessary changes that will bring about the desired conditions for health in the flock and extra eggs in the nest all through the winter. Sometimes just a little remodeling or just a change of ration all that's required:

- (1) Give hens a warm, dry, comfortable, well-ventilated place to live.
- (2) Don't overcrowd—allow 3½ to 4 square feet of floor space per bird.
- (3) See that birds have plenty of proper and water fountain space.
- (4) Provide 12 to 15 nests for each 100 hens; gather eggs 3 times daily.
- (5) Keep things clean.
- (6) Call out diseased, weak, or poorly developed birds; also birds that persist in laying eggs of inferior quality.
- (7) Use artificial lights to lengthen the feeding period in winter.
- (8) Be sure that the laying hens contain proteins (Pro-vitamin A) so that the layers in winter will get enough Vitamin A for springtime health and springtime production.

"Vermilion" Derivation
The color "vermilion" is derived from the Latin "vermilius"—translated "shining worm—or thirty-fold color." Because of its brilliance, vermilion has always been used to signify power. The ancient Romans used the hue to color the faces of their statues of deities.

Bit of Swedish Pride

Percy Dibble informs us that he has a sucking colt that on being weighed tipped the scales at seven hundred and sixty pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alvers will make their future home at this place, and after a short honeymoon will be at home to their many friends. Cigars are up at Chase Webb's.

It is a pretty courtesy and one that you owe to your guests to see that their names appear in the paper. Should they be making a visit here and pick up the paper and see the names of many other visitors in the village, while their own names are omitted, they will feel just a little bit slighted. There is no guarantee that your visitors' names will appear in the local columns of the paper unless you tell us about it, although we try hard not to overlook anyone. All such acts as giving us the names of your visitors, as well as other items, are duly appreciated by the editor.

High School Play

The whole town is talking about the play that the Antioch Township high school will present on the 11th day of December, at the high school. Many of the people of Antioch will remember the play as that presented recently at the Majestic Theatre at Waukegan. "The Whole Town's Talking"—that's it and your chance to see it again with home talent. Remember the date.

The Thimble Bee will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Stanton Thursday afternoon.

The past commander of the various Fortresses of the Daughters of the G. A. R. were given a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Nellie Ray in Waukegan last Thursday. Past Commanders Powles, Runyard and Labdon, from the Antioch fortress were in attendance. They reported a most enjoyable time.

George Schlesher of Grayslake moved into the Hillebrand house on Victoria street the first of the week. Mr. Schlesher will take Mr. Gall Grummit's place as trouble man for the public service company.

Dancing Spots

The Romans imported their dances from Cadiis, and Spain is still the dance land of the Mediterranean. With castanets, rhythmic hand-clapping and stamping of feet, Spanish dancers still cast a spell over all visitors.

Too Much to Hear

"You can't believe all you hear," said Uncle Eben. "You have to put in so much time listening that you can't make up your mind 'bout anything in particular."

Composition of Lemons

The chemical composition of lemons is water, 80.3 per cent; protein, 1.0 per cent; fat, 7 per cent; carbohydrate, 8.5 per cent, and ash, 5 per cent.

Night in June

By KARL KÖNZELMAN
Editor, New Paper & Student, WND Service.

GRADUATION night in June. Small of roses. Youthful faces over glowing black robes. Pretty girls prettier than ever under the throb of excitement. Classmates making awkward jokes. Only thirty minutes more. People streaming into the auditorium below. Long minutes. Nervous laughter. The sun goes down. Breathless dusk.

Eight o'clock. Form in line. "You'll wish with me?" a real youth trembling, asks the class belle.

"Why . . . I don't know . . . I mean . . ." She tries to refuse, searching frantically for a certain face. Yes, there it is. He's talking to that little wimp, Jessie Etienne. He's taking her now.

"All right," she dechies, speaking almost sharply. "I'll walk with you." But the youth doesn't notice her tone. Laughter is in his face, and in his frank, flashing smile. He thinks, "In her dress she's changed." Graduation partner. Connie Wetherby! Boy, will the folks be surprised!

She thinks, bitterly. "Who'd ever thought I'd finish high school with Tom Thorpe again?" She sighs. "What's the matter with Lenny, lately? I hate her! And I hate Lenny, too! I'll show him!"

Prelim, lovely Mary Lancaster watches Tom Thorpe strut proudly out with Donna. She thinks, "Tom's gone. My Tom and with her! Oh, she's pretty, all right. But I do wish Tom would come down to earth. Wonder what's the matter with me?"

The last of the graduates file out carrying their diplomas which they put on a table in the proper order as they go into the rear of the auditorium. Violin music. Twenty couples in slow, rhythmic, marching, marching.

Fence turn. The room is crowded. A whisper runs through the silent hall. Tom searches for the familiar bald head of his father, the sweet round face of his mother. He sees them; they see him. All three smile. Tom with an air of prolonged braggadocio and nervousness.

"Wonder who that girl is with him?" his mother asks. "Never saw her before. Kind of hard looking beauty she has, ain't it, pa? Not nearly as pretty as little Mary Lancaster. There she is, too. My, she's sweet!"

The hissed swish of wooden robes as their wearers sit down. More music. A prayer is offered. A second upholster stands and delivers the graduate's oration. Awards for exceptional scholarship follow. Tom gets one, a gold watch.

Donna has eyes only for Lenny. In the second row ahead. When Tom comes back to his seat she manages a smile of congratulation and notices for the first time that he is handsome in his scholarly, self-conscious way.

"Well done, Tom!" she murmurs cordially. "She thinks, "I won't have any trouble showing Lenny tonight!"

Mary Lancaster drops her eyes when she sees the amorous grin Tom bestows upon his companion. She thinks, trying to make excuses for him, "Tom doesn't know what he's doing. He'll realize, after a bit, how shallow she is. He doesn't know what he's doing."

But in the corridor, after the general merriment and the brief reception is over, Tom and Mary and Lenny and their mothers and themselves drawn uneasily together. "What do you say, Tom, darling?" Donna speaks to the group, "that we all go over to my place?"

"Swell, Don," Tom's face and heart are afire with the subtle flattery of that "Tom, darling!" "You'll all come over, won't you?" he questions, feeling suddenly very small under Mary Lancaster's withering glance.

"Of course they will," Donna tells him.

"Of course," Lenny speaks up, watching Donna closely. Jessie Fallon sniffs and finally nods assent.

"You bet we will," Mary deedes truly for her escort.

The party doesn't last very late. As the evening wears on, Tom finds himself resenting the good time Mary seems to be having, finds himself sickening at Donna's constant solemnity. Her gushiness soon becomes painfully obtrusive to him. He thinks, "She's shallow." But she's making a play for Tom. Sure, that's it! She engineered his whole thing to make him mad, "told me to accomplish her purpose!"

"When he can stand it no longer he rises and announces, "I'm going home Donna!" No amount of persuasion can move him. He gets his hat and coat. At the door he says, just as he had said a thousand times before, "Coming along, Mary?" Casually, he speaks as if he were asking her if he liked to read or play tennis.

Astounded silence at his breach of etiquette. Then Mary gets up abed only, "Do you mind?" she asks. "Forget me, Joe. Good-night!" She takes Tom's arm.

Cool quiet of midnight. Dark heavens alive with stars, and a moon. "Well," Tom grumbles to himself, "D'ja have a good time?"

"Perfect," returns Mary Lancaster. "Um-um. That's what I thought. You smoked two cigarettes," accusingly.

"So did Donna!"

"She can get away with it," Tom snaps. "You can't. You're not the type!" There, he had put his finger on it. She was not Donna's type. That was it. Mary was the oozy Mary, was the one all the time!

Crickets singing, singing. A fresh wind in the drooping willows.

Marx Brothers Set Opera World Crazy at Kenosha Theatre

Something entirely new in the history of film making was devised by the famed Marx Brothers, Groucho, Chico and Harpo, when preparations were begun at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios for the filming of "A Night at the Opera," which, now completed, brings the world-famed laugh-makers to the Kenosha theatre screen starting Friday (tomorrow) in what is reported to be the funniest motion picture ever made, bar none.

In "A Night at the Opera" Groucho, Chico and Harpo are seen as managers for a pair of songbirds whose operatic career they are trying to further. Before they are finished with their innocent blunders, insane impulses and madcap antics the careers of the respective artists are practically ruined, but it all turns out well in the end after a terrific scene in which the Marx Brothers save an audience from panic at a theatre.

Kitty Carlisle, heroine of a number of Bing Crosby musical films, and Alan Jones who made his screen debut with Jean Harlow in "Rockless," are the songbirds in the picture, and the cast of featured players also comprises Walter King, Slegired Rumman, Margaret Dumont, Edward Keane and Robert Emmet O'Connor. The picture was filmed by the ace comedy director, Sam Wood.

"Sundown on Honeymoon Ranch" is Drama for Crystal Stage Friday

"Sundown on Honeymoon Ranch" will be presented by the J. B. Rotham players at the Crystal theatre Friday night.

The company is playing to capacity houses and the plays are being sponsored by Antioch businessmen who are giving free tickets with purchases at their stores.

Next week the company will present: "She Loved Him and How!"

King Turkey—How to Dress "His Majesty"

These directions for roasting a turkey may also be followed if a capon is roasted.

For the turkey dinner select a bird that is plump breasted, heavy for its size. See that the skin is smooth and moist and unblemished or unbroken. A hen is usually best. The legs and feet should be smooth.

The first step is to singe all the long hairs and stubborn feathers by holding and turning the bird over a gas flame until the entire surface is singed.

"Drawing" Explained

Wash the bird and pull out as many of the black feather ends as possible using tweezers, a strawberry huller, or knife and thumb. If the market man has not "drawn" the bird this must now be done. A small cross-cut is made at the vent and the intestines, heart, liver and gizzard are removed. The amateur must watch out for the gall bladder. If this is broken in removing, it will spoil the flavor of the turkey, making any part it touches bitter. Discard all but the liver, heart and gizzard. Boil these to serve minced in gravy, or to make into canape spreads for another service. Clean the gizzard by cutting it open and removing the inner skin and contents and washing the gizzard thoroughly. Cut out the oil sack found at the end of the turkey's spine.

Wash out the inside of the turkey, pat it dry with a clean cloth and stuff it loosely. Do not pack the stuffing in unless you want it to be heavy and solid.

Trouse the bird or not, as you like. Trussing is fastening the legs and wings close to the sides of the bird by tying and skewering.

Place the stuffed turkey in an uncovered roasting pan on its back, salt it well. Have the oven heated to 450 degrees and put the turkey in for twenty minutes. Then reduce the heat of the oven to 350 degrees. Turn the bird on its side in the roasting pan so the juices will not flow away from the breast. Allow the turkey to roast a third of the time that way, then turn it on the other side for one-third of the roasting period. Twenty minutes before the turkey is done turn it on its back again to finish browning the breast evenly.

Basting Unnecessary

Basting is no longer considered necessary, but it does assure a juicier service, so many baste the roasting bird with melted fat and hot water every half hour. After the first twenty minutes, allow twenty minutes to the pound for roasting.

If the oven gets too hot, it is more satisfactory to open the oven door and cool it off than to cover the roasting bird. However, if there are other foods cooking at the same time that need a hot oven, cover the roasting pan or cover well buttered turkey with flour and water dough rolled thin.

When two turkeys are roasted have one carved in the kitchen ready for the host to serve and the other brought to the table whole for the spectacular effect. This of course for typical English service, called family service here.

For formal dinner or Russian service, the birds are carved in the kitchen and brought to the table by maid or butler of some member of the family who has practiced the art of placing and removing various courses a bit.

Apple Ring Salad

Wash well but do not pare bright red apples. Core, enlarging the hole left by the removal of the seeds, and cut crosswise in slices $\frac{1}{4}$ inch thick. Brush each slice with lemon juice and dip in French dressing. Set apple rings on lettuce leaves, leaving a space between each slice, in which put a little pile of mixed chopped hickory nuts and celery. Put a ball of cream cheese rolled in the chopped nuts on top of each apple ring, and turn mayonnaise over the whole. Remove stones from dates, fill with cream cheese, and put one in center of each apple.

Apricot Delight

1 quart flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup melted shortening
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1 egg
About 1 1/2 cups milk
Halves of canned or cooked dried apricots.

Sift the flour, baking powder and salt, add the sugar and melted shortening, also the lemon extract, beaten egg and milk to make a soft dough. Drop portions of the mixture into greased gem pans, place an apricot in the center of each, filling the cavity with sugar, and bake 20 minutes in a hot oven. Serve with whipped cream.

Egyptian Painted Temple Walls

The ancient Egyptians completely covered the inside walls of their temples with painted decorations, generally in strong contrasts of red, yellow and blue, combined with much gold.

The X-Ray to the Rescue

Can this baby, tiny, appealing and helpless, know the threat of "the Foo of Youth"? Alas, yes. Neither age nor position are a protection against tuberculosis. It is the greatest cause of death between the ages of 15 and 45, and it takes fifty per cent more girls than boys between the ages of 15 and 25. The appealing part is that the persons who die human sacrifices because the disease is both preventable and curable. Two thousand affiliated tuberculosis associations throughout the United States conduct an all-year-round campaign to acquaint everyone with the saving facts about the disease, to discover cases in the early stages while they are still curable, and to secure treatment for them. Their efforts are financed by the sale of Christmas Seals. The X-ray, which is being used to photograph the baby's lungs above, is one of the most important diagnostic instruments. It tells whether the lungs have been infected with the tubercle bacillus and to what extent. If active tuberculosis is revealed the baby will be sent to a sanatorium for treatment and the family will be advised to submit to a thorough physical examination to discover whether the baby was infected by one of them who has the disease and is not aware of it.

Golden Glow Salad

1 cup lean pork
1 cup walnut meats
1 cup canned peas
French dressing
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup olives
Paprika
Lettuce
3 hard boiled eggs, sliced

Pass the pork and nuts through the food chopper, blend with the peas, thoroughly drained, and moisten with French dressing. Stone and chop the olives, sprinkle over the surface and dust with paprika. Arrange on lettuce and garnish with rings of egg white and the yolk pressed through a coarse sieve.

Marmalade Drop Cookies

1 cup shortening

1 cup sugar

2 large or 3 small eggs

4 tablespoons milk

1 teaspoon vanilla

2 cups oatmeal

2/3 tablespoon soda

2 cups flour

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped walnuts

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped raisins

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup orange marmalade or other tart marmalade.

Cream shortening and sugar. Add the beaten eggs, the milk and vanilla, then the oatmeal and flour with which the soda has been sifted. Work in the nuts, raisins and marmalade and drop onto greased baking pans. Bake about 15 minutes in a moderate oven.

Frozen Cranberry Pudding

2 cups sugar

1 cup water

2 eggs

2 cups cranberry pulp

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup lemon juice or 1 teaspoon lemon extract

1 cup heavy sour cream

Bolt the sugar and water until it threads (230 deg. F.). Beat the egg yolks until light, pour the syrup slowly over them, beating constantly. Cook until the mixture coats the spoon. Chill. Add the cranberry pulp and lemon juice and fold in the cream whipped until firm. Freeze.

Sequoia Venetian Gold Cols

The sequoia was a Venetian gold coin, first minted about 1250. It was worth about one shilling.

Hippopotamus Holds Record

The hippopotamus is the largest living non-ruminating even-toed mammal.

November Chill Brings Desire For Hearty Food

Vegetables may be varied by selecting those in season, as well as from the canned goods shelf, but care must be used in selecting those with food values that balances the menu.

Griddle cakes, waffles and muffins are greeted enthusiastically at this time of the year. For desserts, apple dumplings with orange sauce, taploca cream, fig souffle, old-time rice pudding and chocolate taploca are nourishing and appetizing.

Loin of Pork, Roasted with Apples and Sweet Potatoes

Rub five or six pounds loin of pork with flour seasoned with salt and pepper, put in roaster and cook in hot oven for one hour. Open roaster and put around the pork raw sweet potatoes, peeled. If large, cut in quarters. Put around also small tart apples, well washed and cored but not peeled. Finish baking pork, when the apples and potatoes will be done also. Make a brown gravy of the liquid in the pan, turning off most of the grease before straining in the flour. Serve pork on a large platter, with a double border of the apples and potatoes. White potatoes may be used instead of sweet.

Stuffed Sweet Potatoes

Take three sweet potatoes of uniform size. When done, cut in half lengthwise and scoop out pulp. Mash this with a tablespoon butter, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup milk, pepper and salt to taste. Beat light and put back in shells with a fork so as not to pack. Sprinkle tops with powdered sugar or with sliced marshmallows and brown in a hot oven.

Apple Stuffing for Duck, Goose or Pork

4 large apples
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups stale bread crumbs
1 teaspoon powdered sage
1 teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon paprika
Grated rind of $\frac{1}{2}$ lemon
Scant $\frac{1}{2}$ cup water or stock

Peel, core and chop the apples finely, blend with the bread crumbs and seasonings, moisten with the water or stock and use to fill body of bird or cavity from which bones was taken if shoulder of pork is being used.

Stuffed Date Pudding

1 package of dates
1 cup nut meats
3 eggs
4 cups water

Cook the cranberries and water together until fruit is tender. Strain through a jelly bag, measure the juice and when boiling, add sugar in the proportion of one cup of sugar to each two cups of juice. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then boil rapidly for five minutes, turn into sterilized glasses and cover with paraffin. Makes six to eight glasses.

Clear Cranberry Jelly

4 quarts (pounds) cranberries
Sugar
6 cups water

Cook the cranberries and water together until fruit is tender. Strain through a jelly bag, measure the juice and when boiling, add sugar in the proportion of one cup of sugar to each two cups of juice. Stir until the sugar is dissolved, then boil rapidly for five minutes, turn into sterilized glasses and cover with paraffin. Makes six to eight glasses.

Flaure, Carrage, Invented in 1640

The carriage called a flaure was invented by a Frenchman, named Sauvage about 1640, but named from the hotel St. Flaure, where an office for the hiring of them was established by the inventor.

Nutrition and Nutriment

Nutrition is the process by which growth is promoted and waste repaired in living organisms; nutriment furnishes the substance for the process.

tor and milk. Pour over the dates baked in a moderate oven until set, then cover with a meringue made from the stiffly beaten egg whites. Return to the cool oven to set and delicately color the meringue.

Old-Time Pumpkin Pie

2 eggs
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar, brown preferred

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ground ginger

$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ground cinnamon

1 pint scalded milk

2 cups cooked pumpkin

Pasty.

Beat the eggs thoroughly, yolks and whites together, add the sugar, spices and salt, pour the scalded milk over these, then add the pumpkin, and stir until thoroughly blended. Turn into a pie plate, which has been lined with any preferred pastry, and bake about $\frac{1}{2}$ hour, having the oven hot for the first ten minutes, then reducing the heat for the remainder of the baking period.

The pumpkin should be cooked either by steaming or baking. If the former, peel it, steam just until tender, then drain very thoroughly before baking. Baking, however, will give a drier result, and for this method, cut the pumpkin into large pieces, leaving the skin on, lay the skin side up in a baking pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) until tender, then scoop the meat from the skin and sift.

Richmond Basketeers Cool Antioch, 31-14

Sequoit Ponies Take a 2-Point Victory from Allendale

Led by the sharpshooting eye of Forward Ehorn, who added 20 points to his team's side of the scoreboard, Richmond High's squad of veteran basketball experts gave Antioch's inexperienced Sequoits a 31 to 14 lesson on the local court Friday night.

The Little Six conference champions took complete charge of the Antioch aggregation and thoroughly avenged the 3-point loss they suffered in last year's tussle. Ehorn had little trouble keeping through the Sequoits' defense and his 8 field goals were enough to outpolat his inexperienced rivals. In addition the Richmond lad sank 4 gift shots from the free-throw mark.

Lutson and Itchey headed Antioch's scoring with 2 field goals apiece with Thill and White adding one each to account for 12 Sequoits points. Gift shots by Brown and Thill ended the scoring.

The lightweight squad gave the customers something to cheer about by claiming a 15 to 13 win over the Allendale hoopsters. In the other game, showing promise of going places.

The next home game is scheduled for Wednesday night in the local gym against the Warren sharpshooters. Lineups:

Democrats Seek Horner's Successor

A state-wide campaign has been launched by the Roosevelt Democratic League of Illinois to win the Democratic nomination for the governorship for Julius F. Smetanka, Internal Revenue Collector under the administration of President Woodrow Wilson, and Trustee of the Board of Education of Chicago under three mayors, Fred Busse, Carter H. Harrison and William E. Deyer. There is a call among the Democrats of the state of Illinois for a gubernatorial candidate of the highest attainments, both personal and professional, and one who is free from all political entanglements. The Roosevelt Democratic League of Illinois has responded to this call by advancing a man who possesses all of these qualifications, according to "Release No. 1 from the Roosevelt Democratic League of Illinois."

A&P Food Stores

ON OCTOBER 31 of last year, Henry Ford announced his intention to build a million Ford V-8s in 1935. We are pleased to report that this goal was reached in exactly ten months instead of a full year.

One million cars and trucks is an impressive total. But figures by themselves mean nothing. It is what they represent that counts. Selling a V-8 at a low price has brought a new kind of automobile within reach of the people. Producing it has provided steady work for hundreds of thousands of men in the Ford plants, in associated industries and on the farm. These million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have helped to make things better all around. In the first ten months of 1935 the Ford Motor Company paid out, in the United States alone, $140,119,326.00 in wages and $523,
